

I wrote to say that I'm ok and I wish that you were here

The water's warm, the sand is hot - I'm so happy with what I've got

I never thought I'd like the sun, but now it really brightens up my day

I wrote to say that I'm ok, I just wrote to say

I set my course, I take my time, there's nothing weighing on my mind

I spend my days in peaceful solitude, I don't mean to be rude

But oh, I wrote to say that I'm ok, and that you'll never see me again

It was nice to see you before, but I needed something a whole lot more

You may say I've lost my way, but I know just where I'm at

I am off the coast somewhere, nowhere else could ever compare

This is the last note I'll ever send, and so I'll seal it with a kiss

Of all the things that I don't have, you're the one I miss

(Instrumental)

I wrote to say that I'm ok

I hope you try to understand
